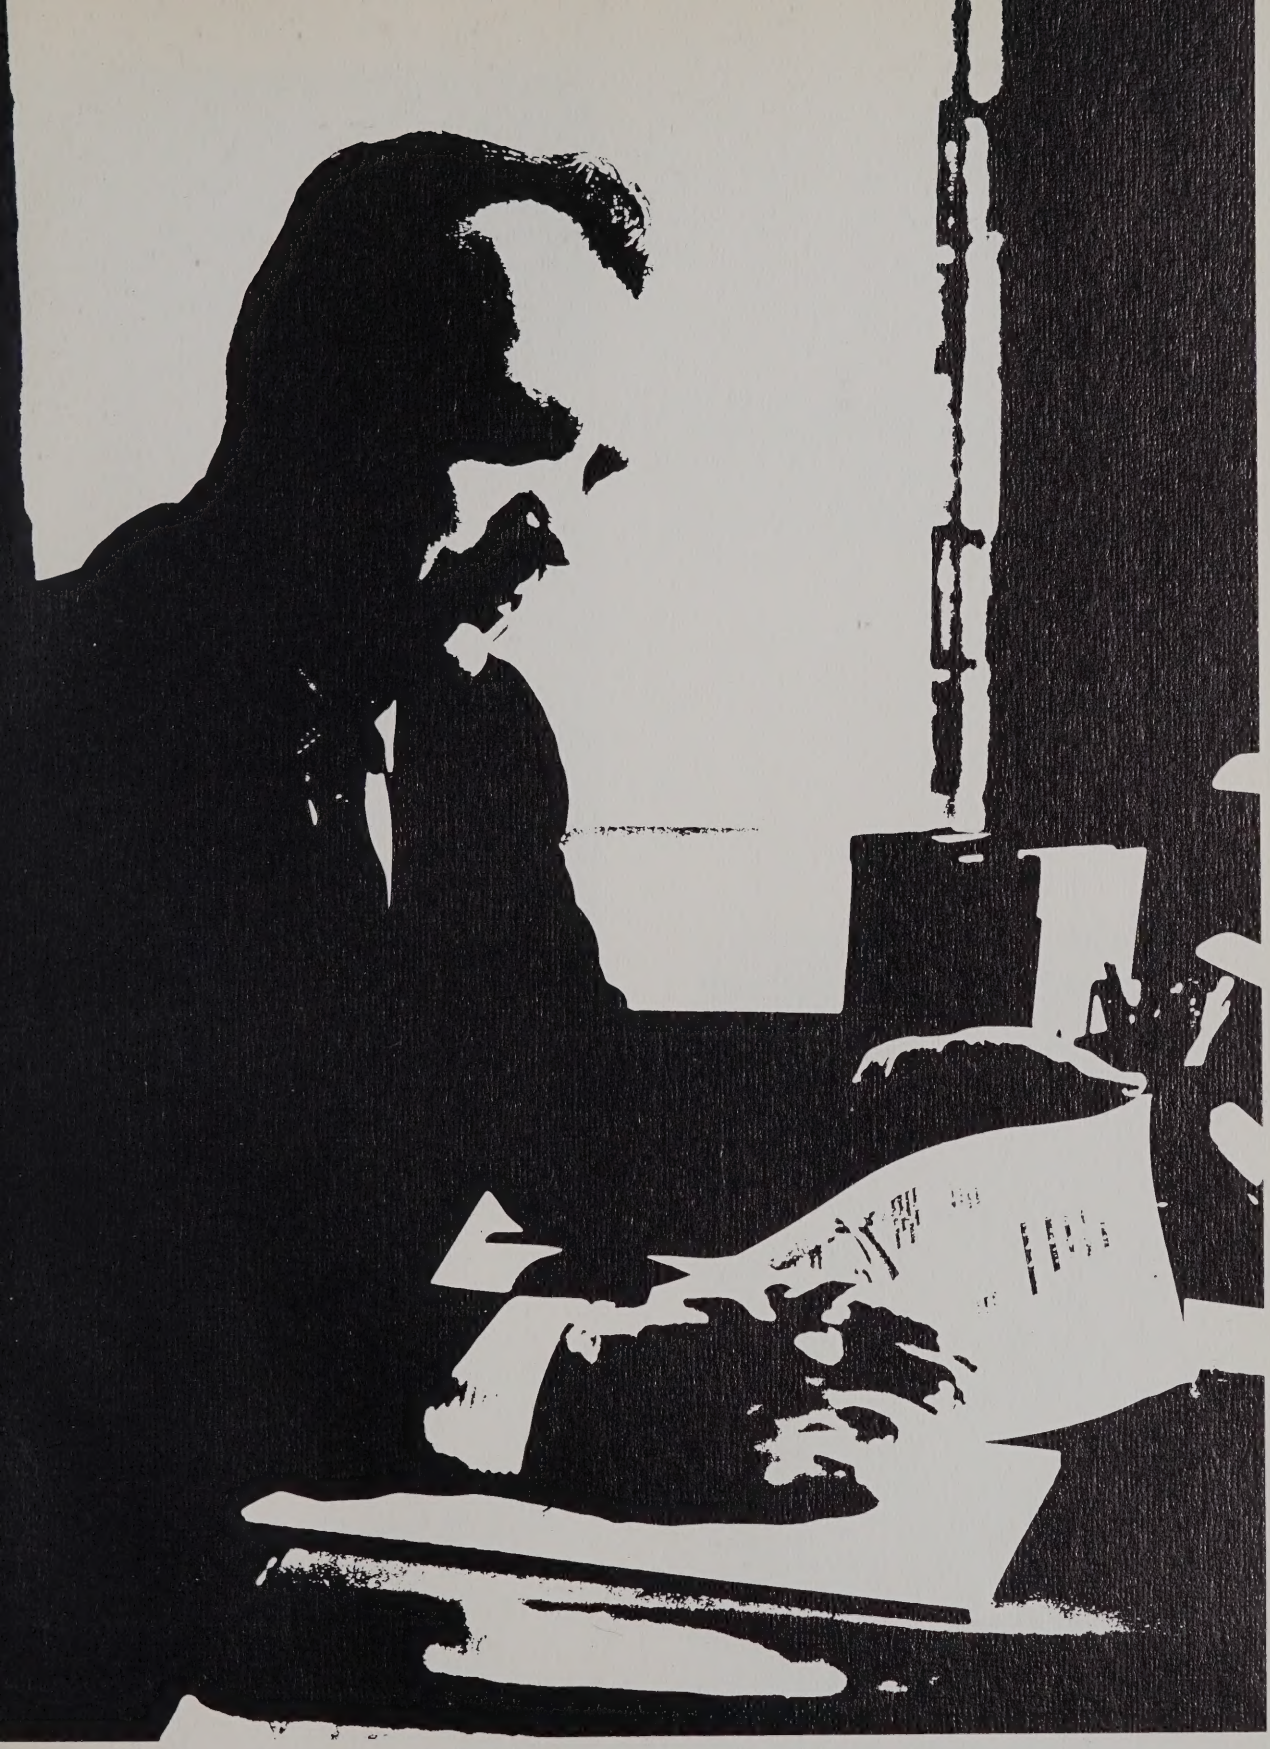
O, not in cruelty, not in wrath,
The Reaper came that day:
'Twas an angel visited the green earth,
And took the flowers away.



ADMINISTRATION & FACULTY

Throughout the year the Administration worked to coordinate the many activities of Brentsville District High School, and endeavored to maintain the high standards of education.

To capture the 1966-67 school year more accurately and to convey it more personally were the aims of this year's staff. Staff members adopted a new production schedule in order to include more spring activities such as spring sports, the Prom, and graduation. In working to produce a more effective yearbook, the staff used new patterns of writing style, picture content, and lay-out.

If you have noticed a change in our yearbook, we have achieved our goal.

National Honor Society

Service to the school and community is the principal goal of the newly formed Partlow chapter of the NHS. The twelve charter members were inducted on November 22, 1966 by members of the Osbourn High School chapter.

Programs for the club's monthly meetings were of a cultural nature and included several interesting and informative speakers.

Under the guidance of Miss Partlow, the club sponsored several fund-raising activities, including a dance and a White Elephant Sale.

The Forensic Club was represented at the district meet by participants in three areas: public speaking, poetry, and prose. Third place award was received by the club's poetry reader, and the prose reader received an excellent rating.

French Club

Consisting of French students with a 'C' average, the French club enjoyed a very successful year. Under the direction of Miss Diane Brockmeyer, the club sponsored a dance and a trip to Washington, D.C. In addition, regular meetings provided films and guest speakers to help members acquire a deeper knowledge of France and its customs.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Janet Hansen, the Library Club worked to promote an interest in literature outside of the classroom. One of the major steps taken to further our library program was the purchase of numerous books to add to the school's library. Included in the club's various social activities were a picnic, a Christmas party, and a trip to Washington, D. C.

Future Teachers of America

Informative monthly meetings of this club included a panel discussion involving both elementary and secondary teachers and lectures concerning difficulties encountered in teaching and experimental instruction in children. By providing its members with opportunities for classroom observation and student teaching, the FTA was able to further the concept of teaching as a career.

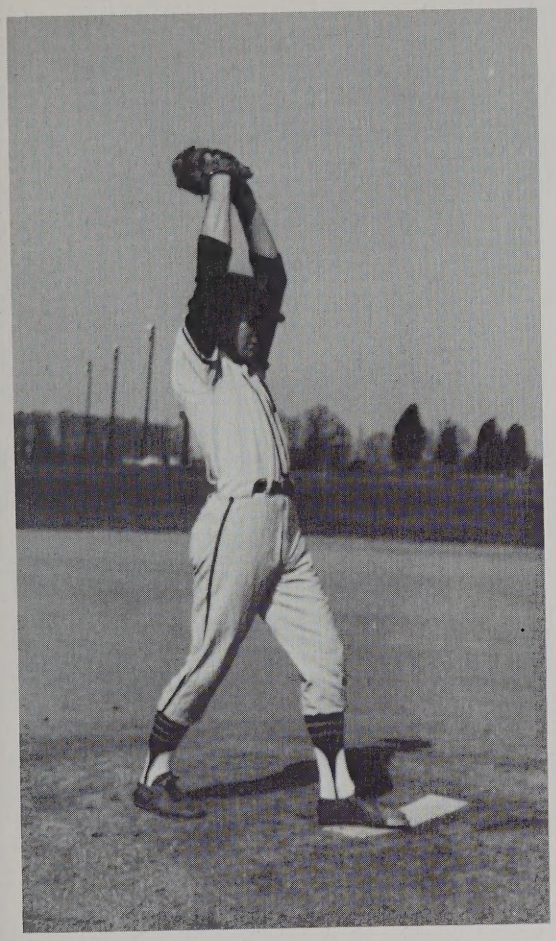
Mike Simms, First Baseman



Fred Shepherd, Pitcher

Nokesville's Tigers showed increased improvement and strength in their past season. Pitchers Fred Shepherd and Bob Spencer made particularly good showings. Persistent practice resulted in smoother, more unified teamwork. The team's efforts were well rewarded when they captured the County Championship.

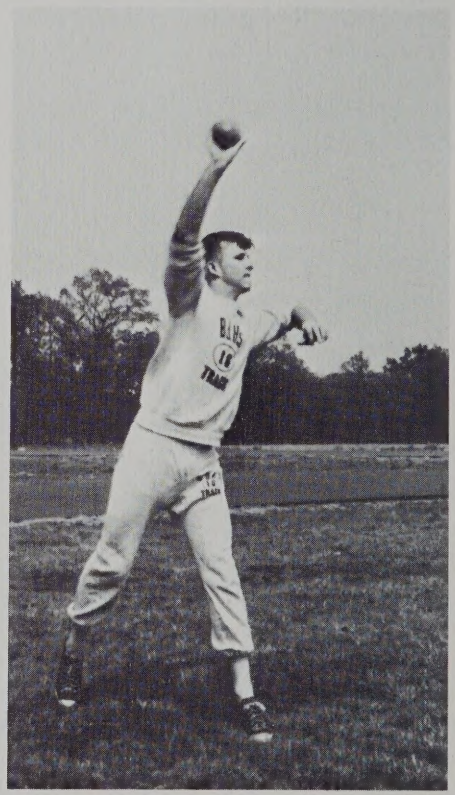
Members of this team found that on the track there is little emphasis placed on teamwork. In this sport it is the individual efforts which are most important. With this in mind, the trackmen worked hard to improve past records as well as their own.

Herman Thomas, leading scorer



Bob Spencer

Led by Herman Thomas, the team scored numerous victories which included capturing the county pole vault competition, setting new school records in the shot put, mile, and 880, and setting a new record for the county shot put. Joe Reid, a promising new member, also qualified for participation in the state competition.

Howard Zigler and Robert Spencer

At right, Robin Cooper and Ellen Sonafrank present one of their familiar satirical sketches in which they portray two aging spinsters, Minnie and Maude. Events in the lives of these characters include candid discussions of fellow community members, experiments with new false teeth, and perilous rides in their antique car, built in 19-0-10.

Dramatics

Under the supervision of Miss Fields and Student Director, Martha Echols, the Seniors presented their class play on April 22, 1967. The play, "Nowhere Fast", was a three-act mystery-comedy. Seniors who were not members of the cast aided in the production by donating props, building scenery and backdrops, or helping cast members with their costumes and make-up.

Receipts of the play were used to promote the class trip to New York City.

Senior Trip

This year New York City was chosen as the destination for the Senior Class Trip. Traveling by bus, class members arrived in New York early on the morning of May 19. The well-planned itinerary guided them through visits to the United Nations, Greenwich Village, The Bowery, Chinatown, and the Statue of Liberty. That evening the Seniors attended Radio City Music Hall where they were entertained by a stage show and first run movie release.

The schedule for the following day provided for tours of Grant's Tomb, the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, NBC Television Studios, and the Empire State Building. The students were then given the afternoon for shopping, and returned home that evening.

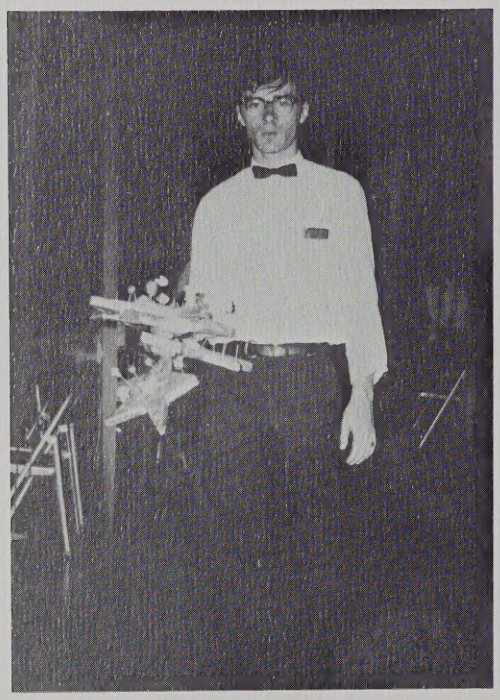
Junior-Senior Prom



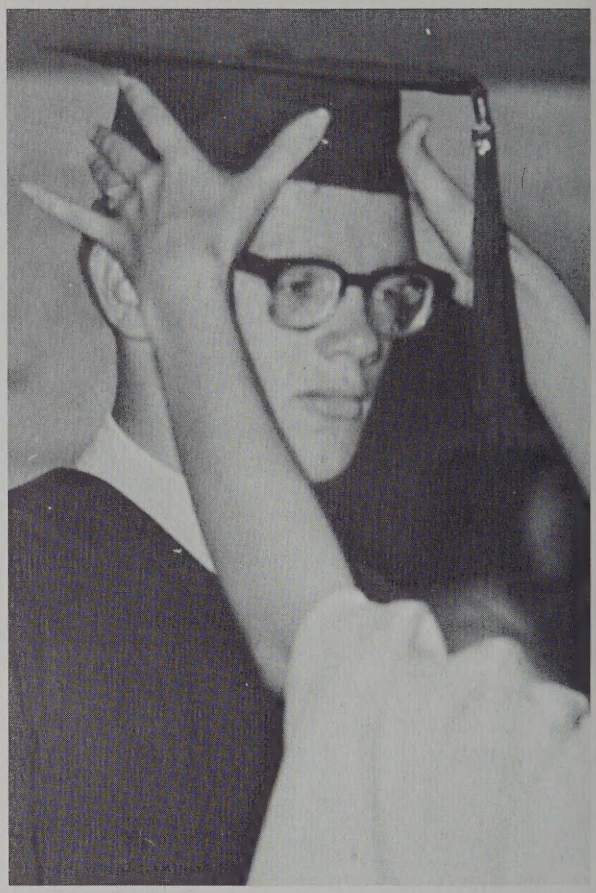
"A Prom" means months of planning, hours of decorating, and constant worrying about band contracts, sagging streamers, rain, and over-due refreshments.

This year's Junior Class countered any obstacles they met to present the Seniors with an enjoyable and memorable evening.

The theme, "Shower of the Stars", was illustrated in decorations of blue and gold suggestive of a celestial atmosphere.

Highlights of the evening were the readings of the Junior Class Prophecy and the Senior Class Will.

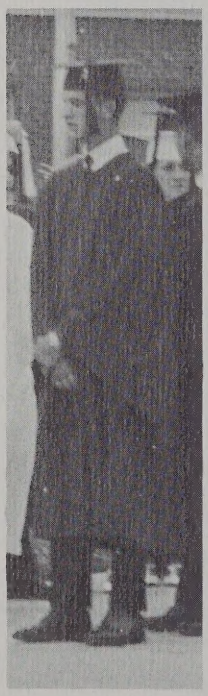
Graduation

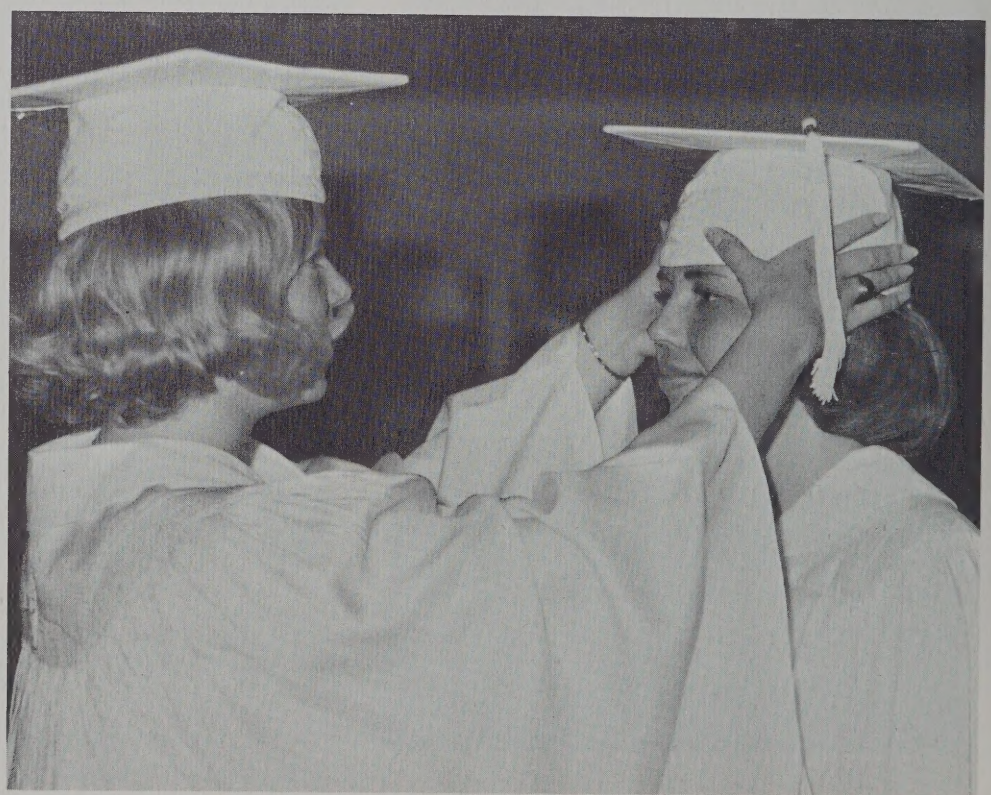


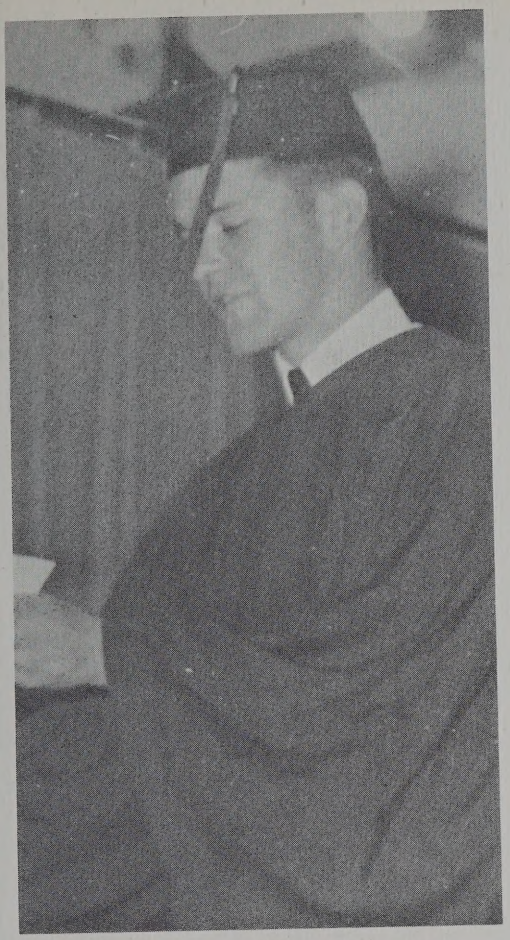
For twelve seemingly endless years the student works toward one major goal--graduation. Then suddenly it is graduation night and the student, astonished at how quickly time seems to have passed, wonders where it has gone, and where it will take him in the years to come.

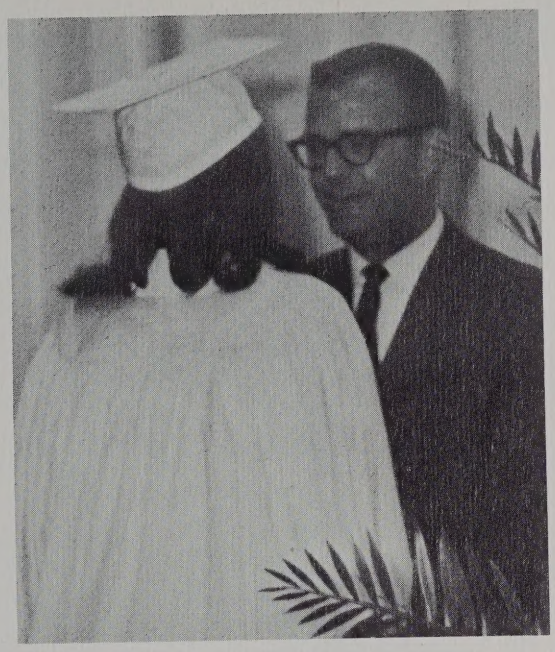
This year Brentsville District High School witnessed the graduation of the largest Senior Class in the history of the school. Seventy-six students participated in Baccalaureate Services on June 11 and Commencement Exercises on June 15. The Baccalaureate sermon was delivered by the Reverend Tearle Brown with music provided by the school's Mixed Chorus.

The graduation program was unique in that several outstanding seniors were asked to present short talks in place of a single guest speaker. These messages were given by Joe Hale, President of the Student Body, Janice Smith, Salutatorian, and Martha Griffith, Valedictorian.









Pre-Commencement moments are tense, excited, and unbelievably long. There is always a cap to be adjusted, a program to review, or a last minute talk with a favorite teacher. At last the line forms, the atmosphere becomes quietly solemn, and the ceremonies begin.

A certificate, a congratulatory smile, a handshake and the student is an alumnus.

Emotions at graduation are always mixed. There is the joy of having succeeded in reaching this position, the sadness of leaving something so familiar and memorable, and the quiet reflection of past reminiscence and future speculations.

The 1966–67 Yearbook Staff would like to express its deepest appreciation to the many persons without whose help this book could not have been published.

To the patrons and merchants who generously responded to the words, "Hi! We're from the B. D. H. S. Yearbook Staff, and we were wondering. . . ."

To the teachers who put up with a hundred "Could I be excused this period to work on the yearbook so we can meet tomorrow's deadline?"

To the photographers who somehow finally got that one kid to smile!

To Mr. Link who warily approved of "the great new idea we have for this year's book!"

To friends and dates who gave their support and often gave up times of being together because "the yearbook has to be done!"

To Mr. Neil Watson and the American Yearbook Company who were able to survive the countless questions of our inexperienced staff.

And to our advisor, Mr. Waugh, who somehow managed to put up with it ALL!
